APRIL AT ROTHERHAM RESPIRATORY

Now that the days are finally getting brighter and warmer, we hope you had the chance to get outside and enjoy some fresh air over the Easter weekend.

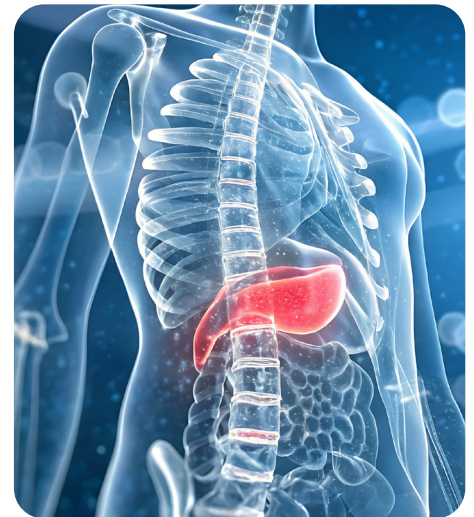

Here's a quick look at what's been going on this month:

TOPIC OF THE MONTH: THE PANCREAS

This month, we've been focusing on the pancreas, a small but mighty organ that plays a huge role in how your body functions. Whether you're supporting people living with diabetes or just want to deepen your understanding, our courses are a great way to build your knowledge.

All three are available now on the website. Here's where you'll find them...

- Diabetes Advancing Care Course - This course covers diagnosis and holistic management of diabetes, including medication, lifestyle interventions and complex cases.
- Diabetes Update Course - This course is designed for clinicians with experience in type 2 diabetes care, focusing on cardiorenal complications and how evidence-based interventions can reduce risks.
- Foundation Course in Diabetes Care & Management - This course is ideal for healthcare professionals new to diabetes care and helps build knowledge from the ground up.

WORLD HEALTH DAY - MONDAY 7 APRIL

We marked World Health Day with a simple reminder of what drives us everyday, making sure people living with long term health conditions get the quality care they deserve. It's a mission that sits at the heart of everything we do at Rotherham Respiratory.

MEET THE COURSE TUTOR: ANNE RODMAN

We've kicked off our new 'Meet the Tutor' series with the wonderful Anne Rodman!

Anne has over two decades of experience in respiratory education, and has been with us for five years! Her passion for improving respiratory care through education is contagious. Here's a quick quote from Anne herself:

"I am passionate about the role of education in improving care and aim to enthuse and motivate health care professionals to see learning as a continuous process, not simply a one-off certificate, and to appreciate the importance of the patient's experience as central to improving care..."

You can read more about Anne's work and the courses that she supports on our website.
